Summary of reasons for decision:

The publication is a sexualised image of a partially naked young woman posing seductively. The image appear to be a “selfie”, or self-taken photograph, with a sexual purpose. Her age is not clear. She may be in her mid teens but could as easily be 18 or 19 years old. Because of these ambiguities, it would not be reasonable to categorise her as a young person. The availability of the image is likely to be injurious to the public good unless it is restricted to older teenagers and adults. The likely injury to children and immature teenagers is the detrimental effect of such sexualised personal images on the development of healthy sexual attitudes and behaviour.

The classification limits the freedom of expression guaranteed by the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990. However, given the considerations above, the decision is reasonable, justified and the minimum required to prevent injury to the public good.
